

2024 Calendar

The 2024 Agilent Eye Calendar captures spectacular moments and inspiring scenes from around the world.

From the sweeping sand dunes of California to a lone egret gracing China's wetlands, each image in this year's calendar is distinctive, with contrasting colors and compositions.

Together, these images symbolize the diversity of experiences and perspectives that each of us brings to Agilent to advance the quality of life.

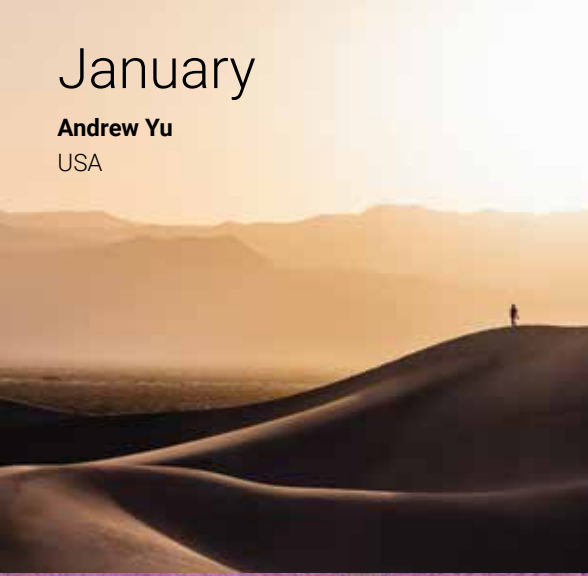

Before you pin the calendar to your workspace, scroll through each page and take a moment to notice the differences – the landscapes, subjects, lines, and hues. They are a reminder that when we bring our unique perspectives together for a common purpose, we can achieve incredible things that move the world forward.

That's the Agilent way.

"This is Mesquite Flat Sand Dune in Death Valley National Park, California. Although it is one of the smaller dunes in the park, climbing to the top still packs a punch. The photo was taken at sunset; another photographer in the distance highlights the scale of the dunes."
